

Privacy Policy

Goss Logan Insurance

We do not disclose any personal information about our clients or claimants to any third parties except as is permitted by law. Any such disclosures are made for the purpose of transacting the business of your insurance coverage or your claim. We do not sell or market your personal information.

The Information We Collect

We collect personal information about you from a variety of sources. The information we collect allows us to properly underwrite and rate your insurance policy and to complete the other transactions incidental to your insurance policy. Sources of information include:

- Information we receive from you on applications or other forms
- Information about your transactions with us, our affiliates, or others
- Information we receive from a consumer reporting agency
- Driver information from the state motor vehicle departments
- Medical or financial information
- Comprehensive Loss Underwriting Exchange

The Information We Disclose

We do not disclose any personal information about our clients except as permitted by law. In some cases this information can be disclosed to third parties without your authorization. These disclosures may include those made to your insurance company, appraisers, independent adjusters, insurance regulators, and/or your mortgage lender or lien holder, automobile and equipment dealers and title companies. It is the agency's normal procedure that your policy could be re-marketed for purposes of renewing or replacing it. We do not sell our client lists.

How We Protect Your Personal Information

We restrict access to your personal information to those employees who need it to provide the insurance counseling, products and services you have requested. We maintain physical, electronic and procedural safeguards to protect your personal information.

Any Questions?

This notice is required by federal law. If you would like any additional information, please notify our Customer Privacy Department at the address shown below.